

THE WINTER FLY.

AND HIS PROSPECTIVE SUMMER DESCENDANTS.

SWAT THE WINTER FLY.

Swat the winter fly. Swat the fly that is the cause of all the trouble. The fly problem is not solved by screen nor swatting, nor trapping, for they breed faster than they can be killed. A fly lays from 120 to 250 eggs at a time and may lay 600 in a season.

Care of garbage is not the solution for the garbage pail is only one of the fly restaurants. Extermination of flies depends chiefly upon the success with which their breeding is prevented. For breeding flies seek warmth and moisture. Their preference is stable manure from horses. The large, rapidly growing pile is far shot over a right to the jaw that made Bobbie's legs wobble. Bobbie came back with a flow of wallop at the gong that partly evened things up and earned him a draw.

Ed Kessler and Art Brugger fought a fast and furious four rounds and were handed a draw. It was the toe to toe smash stuff throughout, and the fans were on their feet practically every second of the going. Both lads accepted enough wallop on the jaw to put an ordinary scrapper into dreamland, but each refused to fall, and, at the final gong, they were still going like thoroughbreds. They brought forth much applause from the crowd.

While Beechie sailed into Young Rose in their scheduled four round bout, but the going was too fast for Rose, and in the second he took the count. It was a fast battle until the final punch arrived, for Rose, although outclassed, fought a game scrap and only went down after a score of heavy smashes to the midsection.

Art Nowell and Young Brown opened the evening's entertainment with a four round battle. Brown, who was much the heavier, slapped Art to all sections of the ring in the first two rounds. However, Nowell then found Brown's number and had him covering up and hanging on in the remaining frames. Nowell practically had Brown out when the final gong ended the bout.

Wisconsin Gains $16,000 on Boxing Bouts in State

MILWAUKEE, Wis., March 31.—Wisconsin profited to the extent of approximately $16,000 from its 5 per cent share of the receipts from boxing bouts in the last two years, according to the biennial report of the boxing board.

The report shows that the state collected $37,989.32 since the sport was legalized. The expenses of the commission have been $21,587.61, leaving a balance of more than $16,000 in favor of the state.

In addition to the war, the epidemic of influenza cut into the receipts of the commission as the sport was just getting back on its feet when the "flu" ban gave it another setback.

Walter H. Lininger, chairman of the commission, said interest in the sport was growing as the soldiers returned from camp and abroad and that a number of clubs in different parts of the state are negotiating for licenses.

One thing emphasized in the report is the increase in amateur boxing.

DARK PICTURE OF LIFE ON THE STAGE IS DRAWN

LONDON, March 8.—A dark picture of life on the stage was drawn by Miss Muriel Pratt, a well-known London actress, in a speech the other day.

"The discomfort of a theatre," she said, even in the West-end, if one is lucky enough to have a "star" dressing-room, is extraordinarily disagreeable. The draughts from the theatre, the coldness in winter, the heat in summer, and the entire lack of any form of comfort even in London, would be enough to deter most people, even if they knew it beforehand, from going on the stage.

"In the provinces it is fifty times worse, and the music-halls are indescribably uncomfortable. They are dirty, they are cold, there is absolutely no comfort of any kind. The journeys are bad, and one spent most of one's time waiting about cold stations. It is impossible to get food, and the whole of the life of the stage, even to people who can raise protests and do their best to help themselves, is painful and horrible."

AMERICAN STAFF OF UMPIRES HAS BEEN SIGNED UP

CHICAGO, Ill., April 1.—With the signing of "Augie" Moran of Philadelphia, President Hickey of the American Association tonight completed his staff of umpires for the coming season. The double umpiring system will be retained.

Moran and George H. Johnson of Chicago are the addition to the staff. Moran, a veteran, was signed to fill the vacancy caused by the loss of Ollie Chill, who will join the American league staff, and Johnson will take the place of "Ducky" Holmes, who held out for an increase over his 1918 salary.

Moran comes to the American Association with a good record. He has officiated in the National league, Pacific Coast league, International, and Southern league.

The remaining members of the 1919 staff are Louis Knapp of Louisville, James A. Murray of Minneapolis, W. F. Finneran of Erie, Pa., Robert Hart of Lowell, Mass., F. R. Connolly of Boston, and Buck Freeman of Wilkes-Barre, Pa.

President Hickey has decided to abandon the practice of holding a rules meeting with the umpires in Chicago before the opening of the season. The question will be covered this season by correspondence which President Hickey believes, will be as satisfactory as a personal conference.

Encouraging reports are being received by President Hickey on prospects for the 1919 year. All of the clubs are being strengthened with new talent.

An infielder, and outfielder and a second string catcher will about complete the team which will represent Minneapolis. Manager Joe Cantillon has acquired Pitcher Rube Schauer, whom he feels, will add the necessary strength to his pitching staff. The other pitchers on the roster are Roy Patterson, Whitehouse, Talley, Lindberg, Thomas, Miller, and Williams.

Jourdan, another acquisition of the Millers is rated to be one of the best first basemen in the A. A. He was purchased from the White Sox. Rondeau and Lelivert are the two candidates for the outfield. Cantillon is said to be on trail of another outfielder. This would give him three of the hardest hitters among the outfielders in this league.

Clarence Rowland, new owner of the Milwaukee club, is assembling a flock of players to report at the Evansville, Ind., training camp this month. Rollo Daringer, a veteran shortstop, who played for Rowland in the days of the Three-I league, is among the latest players signed.

Milwaukee fans will give Rowland and Hugh Brennan, his partner, a "get-together" dinner in Milwaukee Tuesday night.

Al Tearney Not Favored as Head of Western League

GRAND RAPIDS, Mich., March 31.—"I am willing to wage anything in the world that the statement given out at Chicago last Saturday that the Western league club owners favored Al Tearney as president of that circuit is not true. I do not think that a single member of the Western league made the alleged statement," said E. W. Dickerson of Grand Rapids, this evening.

Mr. Dickerson returned home Sunday from France where he has served as a war correspondent.

"The Western league has my signature on a three years contract and when I left they thanked me and stated that my position would be waiting my return. The club owners were not wholly ignorant of the time when I was to come back to the United States."

SPORT WRITERS DO NOT ENDORSE WILDE DECISION

LONDON, April 1.—None of the sporting reporters on London morning papers endorses the decision by which "Jimmie" Wilde, the British flyweight champion, defeated Joe Lynch, an American boxer, on points last night. While some are content to say that the bout was very closely contested, others do not disguise their surprise and mention sympathetically the astonishment with which the decision was received by a large part of the spectators.

The Mail's expert says he scored the rounds carefully and at the finish decided that Lynch had eleven and Wilde four. He wants to know, he says, upon what the referee's verdict was based. The Daily Sketch differs from the decision saying that Wilde got a worse grueling than he did on the only occasion he has been beaten in a real contest.

There is also reference to the defeat administered to Wilde by Pal Moore of Memphis, Tenn., in the inter-allied boxing tournament held in London December 11 and 12.

CUBAN AND GREEK CLASH FOR TITLE

CHICAGO, Ill., March 31.—Cuban and Greek clashed when Champion Alfredo DeOro defended the world's three cushioned billiard title against Gus Copulos at Detroit recently.

It was the first time in the history of the three cushioned classic that two players born outside of North America met in a match for the championship. DeOro, who, for a quarter of a century, has been one of the greatest figures in the billiard world, was born in Cuba, 56 years ago. For many years he was the premier pocket billiard player of the world, and then taking up three cushioned billiards, he became the leader at that style of sport, gaining permanent possession of the Jordan Lambert trophy, the original world's champion emblem in 1914.

In succeeding years he won the championship twice, and then, when it looked as if the younger masters had finally passed him, he made a wonderful comeback last month and defeated Augie Kieckhefer 150 to 148, after the Chicago man had won eight straight matches and seemed likely to win the emblem outright.

Copulos, who made his first essay for the title, was born in Sparta, Greece, January 22, 1894, but came to this country when an infant. After leaving school he took up pocket billiards and went to work in a grocery store. He practiced shooting potatoes with a broom until the boss caught him. Later he traveled for a confectionery firm and had pocket games with some of the leading players in the country. He took up three cushion billiards in 1912. He won the Detroit city championship this year.

WEBER FORMING A BASEBALL TEAM

Candidates for berths on the Weber college baseball team are to be called out this afternoon for the first practice of the season. There are a number of boys attending the church school that have shown remarkable ability on the diamond, and, from all appearances, Weber will have an A. No. 1 baseball team this year.

A large number of recruits are expected to report for the first practice, and they hope to accomplish the same results in baseball that the boys did in the last basketball season.

Fighting George Defeats Emmett At Manhattan Club

SALT LAKE, April 1.—It was easy pickings for Fighting George at the Manhattan club last night. After a brief exchange of blows in the opening round with one to Emmett's mouth and started the nectar flowing in such a gushing manner that the Kid was in no shape to proceed with the fight. Referee Hardy Downing stopped the fracas after an examination of Emmett's mouth and called further proceedings off. The fans were pleased, for the scrapper plainly would have been weakened after another period.

Swede Johnson and Clint Scott started off for six rounds in whirlwind fashion in the semi-final, but Clint's midsection failed to stand the heavy going in the third frame and he took the count. Swede tore after Scott from the first gong and landed heavily throughout. Clint weathered the first and second and managed to get in a few return pokes, but in the third Swede doubled him up and then knocked him through the ropes with telling body punches. Scott heard the birds' song for several second seconds after the scrap was over.

Munger and Smith Draw.
In a fairly fast six rounds Bobby Munger and Frankie Smithers pummeled each other while the fans yelled for more speed from Bobbie. The Garfield lad was never in danger of losing the scrap, owing to the advantage in ring generalship. However, he failed to tear in as the fans wished. Frankie hit Munger with about everything he had but failed to shake him loose until the final round, when he
